

LOS ANGELES DAILY HERALD.

VOL. XXV.

LOS ANGELES. SATURDAY MORNING JULY 31, 1886.—SIX-PAGE EDITION.

NO 128.

NEWS OF THE WORLD.

Proceedings of The National Congress.

CUTTING STILL IN JAIL.

Additional Members of the British Ministry—Racing Events at the East

Special to the Herald by the Associated Press.

Senate.

WASHINGTON, July 30.—The Senate resumed the consideration of the House joint resolution directing the payment of the surplus in the treasury on the public debt. After the adoption of various amendments, the joint resolution was passed—yeas 42, nays 20. The joint resolution, etc., that wherever a surplus or balance in the treasury, including the amount held for the redemption of United States bonds, shall exceed the sum of one hundred millions of dollars it shall be and is hereby made the duty of the Secretary of the Treasury to appropriate such excess, in sums not less than one million dollars per month, during the existence of any such surplus or excess to the payment of the interest-bearing indebtedness of the United States, paid at the time of the issue of the government bonds or balances, hereinafter referred to, shall be available when the surplus is ascertained according to the form of statement of the Treasury, and shall be paid to the Treasury of the United States employed on J. 30, 1886. Provided that no such call shall be made under the provisions of this resolution, except when the Secretary of the Treasury has received the written consent of the Senate.

Washington Notes.

WASHINGTON, July 30.—The Senate went into secret session about ten minutes after 11 o'clock and confirmed the nomination of Geo. A. Jenkins as Collector of Internal Revenue.

Mr. R. H. Round, the Public Printer, tendered his resignation to the President yesterday. It is understood that this will be accepted. He has been nominated by the Senate to fill the office of Postmaster General, it is said, desires to fill his place before the adjournment of Congress.

Mr. Rounds is credited with having said that Rogers, of Buffalo, will be appointed to succeed him.

The President has approved the legislation.

IN FAVOR OF IRRIGATION.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 30.—At a meeting of the Horticultural Society today the following resolution introduced by Dr. Kimball was adopted: "Resolved, That we, the members of the Horticultural Society, do hereby declare our hearty endorsement of the bill introduced by the Hon. T. C. Tracy, to demand the use of water in all interior valleys for the most productive agricultural and horticultural results; that the waters of all streams not navigable be diverted into irrigation ditches; that any legislation tending to private ownership or monopoly in water will produce untold disaster and oppression."

Washington Notes.

WASHINGTON, July 30.—The Senate has agreed to the bill introduced by Mr. Tracy to demand the use of water in all interior valleys for the most productive agricultural and horticultural results; that the waters of all streams not navigable be diverted into irrigation ditches; that any legislation tending to private ownership or monopoly in water will produce untold disaster and oppression.

Washington Wants Recognition.

WASHINGTON, July 30.—Honorable members are holding a conference throughout Washington. The circular says:

"The time has arrived when Washington should have the right to govern themselves. The Parliament at London makes not for the benefit of Webster, but for the benefit of the people and their leaders and friends. Washington demands the right of making their own laws; they demand free education, the abolition of landlordism and the disestablishment of the Church."

Other Washington Notes.

WASHINGTON, July 30.—The employees of Lewin & Martin's cigar manufacturer were notified today by the firm that they must leave the Progressive Union. The 282 hands at once went out on strike. Other hands followed them to-morrow and a similar demand of an increase in pay was made.

The feeling of exasperation among the cigar-makers against District Assembly No. 49 is increasing, and the demand for arbitration is now being urged.

Washington Notes.

WASHINGTON, July 30.—The man killed and baled up at Apache a few days ago near Chilton has been arrested by the military on a charge of murder, it being ascertained that the Indian who found him had on his person a tag issued to the Indians by the New Mexico Reservation. The Indian who killed him was a member of the Apache tribe, who undoubtedly have killed the Apache. The American had not been too quick for the Apache.

Washington Notes.

WASHINGTON, July 30.—The man killed and baled up at Apache a few days ago near Chilton has been arrested by the military on a charge of murder, it being ascertained that the Indian who found him had on his person a tag issued to the Indians by the New Mexico Reservation. The Indian who killed him was a member of the Apache tribe, who undoubtedly have killed the Apache. The American had not been too quick for the Apache.

Washington Notes.

WASHINGTON, July 30.—The man killed and baled up at Apache a few days ago near Chilton has been arrested by the military on a charge of murder, it being ascertained that the Indian who found him had on his person a tag issued to the Indians by the New Mexico Reservation. The Indian who killed him was a member of the Apache tribe, who undoubtedly have killed the Apache. The American had not been too quick for the Apache.

Washington Notes.

WASHINGTON, July 30.—The man killed and baled up at Apache a few days ago near Chilton has been arrested by the military on a charge of murder, it being ascertained that the Indian who found him had on his person a tag issued to the Indians by the New Mexico Reservation. The Indian who killed him was a member of the Apache tribe, who undoubtedly have killed the Apache. The American had not been too quick for the Apache.

Washington Notes.

WASHINGTON, July 30.—The man killed and baled up at Apache a few days ago near Chilton has been arrested by the military on a charge of murder, it being ascertained that the Indian who found him had on his person a tag issued to the Indians by the New Mexico Reservation. The Indian who killed him was a member of the Apache tribe, who undoubtedly have killed the Apache. The American had not been too quick for the Apache.

Washington Notes.

WASHINGTON, July 30.—The man killed and baled up at Apache a few days ago near Chilton has been arrested by the military on a charge of murder, it being ascertained that the Indian who found him had on his person a tag issued to the Indians by the New Mexico Reservation. The Indian who killed him was a member of the Apache tribe, who undoubtedly have killed the Apache. The American had not been too quick for the Apache.

Washington Notes.

WASHINGTON, July 30.—The man killed and baled up at Apache a few days ago near Chilton has been arrested by the military on a charge of murder, it being ascertained that the Indian who found him had on his person a tag issued to the Indians by the New Mexico Reservation. The Indian who killed him was a member of the Apache tribe, who undoubtedly have killed the Apache. The American had not been too quick for the Apache.

Washington Notes.

WASHINGTON, July 30.—The man killed and baled up at Apache a few days ago near Chilton has been arrested by the military on a charge of murder, it being ascertained that the Indian who found him had on his person a tag issued to the Indians by the New Mexico Reservation. The Indian who killed him was a member of the Apache tribe, who undoubtedly have killed the Apache. The American had not been too quick for the Apache.

Washington Notes.

WASHINGTON, July 30.—The man killed and baled up at Apache a few days ago near Chilton has been arrested by the military on a charge of murder, it being ascertained that the Indian who found him had on his person a tag issued to the Indians by the New Mexico Reservation. The Indian who killed him was a member of the Apache tribe, who undoubtedly have killed the Apache. The American had not been too quick for the Apache.

Washington Notes.

WASHINGTON, July 30.—The man killed and baled up at Apache a few days ago near Chilton has been arrested by the military on a charge of murder, it being ascertained that the Indian who found him had on his person a tag issued to the Indians by the New Mexico Reservation. The Indian who killed him was a member of the Apache tribe, who undoubtedly have killed the Apache. The American had not been too quick for the Apache.

Washington Notes.

WASHINGTON, July 30.—The man killed and baled up at Apache a few days ago near Chilton has been arrested by the military on a charge of murder, it being ascertained that the Indian who found him had on his person a tag issued to the Indians by the New Mexico Reservation. The Indian who killed him was a member of the Apache tribe, who undoubtedly have killed the Apache. The American had not been too quick for the Apache.

Washington Notes.

WASHINGTON, July 30.—The man killed and baled up at Apache a few days ago near Chilton has been arrested by the military on a charge of murder, it being ascertained that the Indian who found him had on his person a tag issued to the Indians by the New Mexico Reservation. The Indian who killed him was a member of the Apache tribe, who undoubtedly have killed the Apache. The American had not been too quick for the Apache.

Washington Notes.

WASHINGTON, July 30.—The man killed and baled up at Apache a few days ago near Chilton has been arrested by the military on a charge of murder, it being ascertained that the Indian who found him had on his person a tag issued to the Indians by the New Mexico Reservation. The Indian who killed him was a member of the Apache tribe, who undoubtedly have killed the Apache. The American had not been too quick for the Apache.

Washington Notes.

WASHINGTON, July 30.—The man killed and baled up at Apache a few days ago near Chilton has been arrested by the military on a charge of murder, it being ascertained that the Indian who found him had on his person a tag issued to the Indians by the New Mexico Reservation. The Indian who killed him was a member of the Apache tribe, who undoubtedly have killed the Apache. The American had not been too quick for the Apache.

Washington Notes.

WASHINGTON, July 30.—The man killed and baled up at Apache a few days ago near Chilton has been arrested by the military on a charge of murder, it being ascertained that the Indian who found him had on his person a tag issued to the Indians by the New Mexico Reservation. The Indian who killed him was a member of the Apache tribe, who undoubtedly have killed the Apache. The American had not been too quick for the Apache.

Washington Notes.

WASHINGTON, July 30.—The man killed and baled up at Apache a few days ago near Chilton has been arrested by the military on a charge of murder, it being ascertained that the Indian who found him had on his person a tag issued to the Indians by the New Mexico Reservation. The Indian who killed him was a member of the Apache tribe, who undoubtedly have killed the Apache. The American had not been too quick for the Apache.

Washington Notes.

WASHINGTON, July 30.—The man killed and baled up at Apache a few days ago near Chilton has been arrested by the military on a charge of murder, it being ascertained that the Indian who found him had on his person a tag issued to the Indians by the New Mexico Reservation. The Indian who killed him was a member of the Apache tribe, who undoubtedly have killed the Apache. The American had not been too quick for the Apache.

Washington Notes.

WASHINGTON, July 30.—The man killed and baled up at Apache a few days ago near Chilton has been arrested by the military on a charge of murder, it being ascertained that the Indian who found him had on his person a tag issued to the Indians by the New Mexico Reservation. The Indian who killed him was a member of the Apache tribe, who undoubtedly have killed the Apache. The American had not been too quick for the Apache.

Washington Notes.

WASHINGTON, July 30.—The man killed and baled up at Apache a few days ago near Chilton has been arrested by the military on a charge of murder, it being ascertained that the Indian who found him had on his person a tag issued to the Indians by the New Mexico Reservation. The Indian who killed him was a member of the Apache tribe, who undoubtedly have killed the Apache. The American had not been too quick for the Apache.

Washington Notes.

WASHINGTON, July 30.—The man killed and baled up at Apache a few days ago near Chilton has been arrested by the military on a charge of murder, it being ascertained that the Indian who found him had on his person a tag issued to the Indians by the New Mexico Reservation. The Indian who killed him was a member of the Apache tribe, who undoubtedly have killed the Apache. The American had not been too quick for the Apache.

Washington Notes.

WASHINGTON, July 30.—The man killed and baled up at Apache a few days ago near Chilton has been arrested by the military on a charge of murder, it being ascertained that the Indian who found him had on his person a tag issued to the Indians by the New Mexico Reservation. The Indian who killed him was a member of the Apache tribe, who undoubtedly have killed the Apache. The American had not been too quick for the Apache.

Washington Notes.

WASHINGTON, July 30.—The man killed and baled up at Apache a few days ago near Chilton has been arrested by the military on a charge of murder, it being ascertained that the Indian who found him had on his person a tag issued to the Indians by the New Mexico Reservation. The Indian who killed him was a member of the Apache tribe, who undoubtedly have killed the Apache. The American had not been too quick for the Apache.

Washington Notes.

WASHINGTON, July 30.—The man killed and baled up at Apache a few days ago near Chilton has been arrested by the military on a charge of murder, it being ascertained that the Indian who found him had on his person a tag issued to the Indians by the New Mexico Reservation. The Indian who killed him was a member of the Apache tribe, who undoubtedly have killed the Apache. The American had not been too quick for the Apache.

Washington Notes.

WASHINGTON, July 30.—The man killed and baled up at Apache a few days ago near Chilton has been arrested by the military on a charge of murder, it being ascertained that the Indian who found him had on his person a tag issued to the Indians by the New Mexico Reservation. The Indian who killed him was a member of the Apache tribe, who undoubtedly have killed the Apache. The American had not been too quick for the Apache.

Washington Notes.

WASHINGTON, July 30.—The man killed and baled up at Apache a few days ago near Chilton has been arrested by the military on a charge of murder, it being ascertained that the Indian who found him had on his person a tag issued to the Indians by the New Mexico Reservation. The Indian who killed him was a member of the Apache tribe, who undoubtedly have killed the Apache. The American had not been too quick for the Apache.

Washington Notes.

WASHINGTON, July 30.—The man killed and baled up at Apache a few days ago near Chilton has been arrested by the military on a charge of murder, it being ascertained that the Indian who found him had on his person a tag issued to the Indians by the New Mexico Reservation. The Indian who killed him was a member of the Apache tribe, who undoubtedly have killed the Apache. The American had not been too quick for the Apache.

Washington Notes.

WASHINGTON, July 30.—The man killed and baled up at Apache a few days ago near Chilton has been arrested by the military on a charge of murder, it being ascertained that the Indian who found him had on his person a tag issued to the Indians by the New Mexico Reservation. The Indian who killed him was a member of the Apache tribe, who undoubtedly have killed the Apache. The American had not been too quick for the Apache.

Washington Notes.

WASHINGTON, July 30.—The man killed and baled up at Apache a few days ago near Chilton has been arrested by the military on a charge of murder, it being ascertained that the Indian who found him had on his person a tag issued to the Indians by the New Mexico Reservation. The Indian who killed him was a member of the Apache tribe, who undoubtedly have killed the Apache. The American had not been too quick for the Apache.

Washington Notes.

WASHINGTON, July 30.—The man killed and baled up at Apache a few days ago near Chilton has been arrested by the military on a charge of murder, it being ascertained that the Indian who found him had on his person a tag issued to the Indians by the New Mexico Reservation. The Indian who killed him was a member of the Apache tribe, who undoubtedly have killed the Apache. The American had not been too quick for the Apache.

Washington Notes.

WASHINGTON, July 30.—The man killed and baled up at Apache a few days ago near Chilton has been arrested by the military on a charge of murder, it being ascertained that the Indian who found him had on his person a tag issued to the Indians by the New Mexico Reservation. The Indian who killed him was a member of the Apache tribe, who undoubtedly have killed the Apache. The American had not been too quick for the Apache.

Washington Notes.

WASHINGTON, July 30.—The man killed and baled up at Apache a few days ago near Chilton has been arrested by the military on a charge of murder, it being ascertained that the Indian who found him had on his person a tag issued to the Indians by the New Mexico Reservation. The Indian who killed him was a member of the Apache tribe, who undoubtedly have killed the Apache. The American had not been too quick for the Apache.

Washington Notes.

WASHINGTON, July 30.—The man killed and baled up at Apache a few days ago near Chilton has been arrested by the military on a charge of murder, it being ascertained that the Indian who found him had on his person a tag issued to the Indians by the New Mexico Reservation. The Indian who killed him was a member of the Apache tribe, who undoubtedly have killed the Apache. The American had not been too quick for the Apache.

Washington Notes.

WASHINGTON, July 30.—The man killed and baled up at Apache a few days ago near Chilton has been arrested by the military on a charge of murder, it being ascertained that the Indian who found him had on his person a tag issued to the Indians by the New Mexico Reservation. The Indian who killed him was a member of the Apache tribe, who undoubtedly have killed the Apache. The American had not been too quick for the Apache.

Washington Notes.

WASHINGTON, July 30.—The man killed and baled up at Apache a few days ago near Chilton has been arrested by the military on a charge of murder, it being ascertained that the Indian who found him had on his person a tag issued to the Indians by the New Mexico Reservation. The Indian who killed him was a member of the Apache tribe, who undoubtedly have killed the Apache. The American had not been too quick for the Apache.

Washington Notes.

WASHINGTON, July 30.—The man killed and baled up at Apache a few days ago near Chilton has been arrested by the military on a charge of murder, it being ascertained that the Indian who found him had on his person a tag issued to the Indians by the New Mexico Reservation. The Indian who killed him was a member of the Apache tribe, who undoubtedly have killed the Apache. The American had not been too quick for the Apache.

Washington Notes.

WASHINGTON, July 30.—The man killed and baled up at Apache a few days ago near Chilton has been arrested by the military on a charge of murder, it being ascertained that the Indian who found him had on his person a tag issued to the Indians by the New Mexico Reservation. The Indian who killed him was a member of the Apache tribe, who undoubtedly have killed the Apache. The American had not been too quick for the Apache.

Washington Notes.

WASHINGTON, July 30.—The man killed and baled up at Apache a few days ago near Chilton has been arrested by the military on a charge of murder, it being ascertained that the Indian who found him had on his person a tag issued to the Indians by the New Mexico Reservation. The Indian who killed him was a member of the Apache tribe, who undoubtedly have killed the Apache. The American had not been too quick for the Apache.

Washington Notes.

WASHINGTON, July 30.—The man killed and baled up at Apache a few days ago near Chilton has been arrested by the military on a charge of murder, it being ascertained that the Indian who found him had on his person a tag issued

DAILY HERALD

Single Copies of the Herald, 5 Cents

Herald Steam Printing House.

The HERALD Steam Printing House is not surpassed by any job printing office on the Pacific Coast, outside of San Francisco. In fact, it does all its own work. Low prices, good work and doing job may be relied upon at this office.

Special Notice.

heretofore notices of companies, societies, churches, etc., will only be inserted in the HERALD as paid advertisements. We reserve our places of worship a gratuitous directory which will appear every Sunday morning.

The HERALD office is connected with the telephone system of Los Angeles city and county. Orders for advertisements or job work may be sent through this medium to NUMBER 15.

The HERALD is the official paper of the city of Los Angeles. The city delinquent tax lists and all other municipal notices appear only in its columns.

Mr. E. N. HOWES is the Santa Ana agent of THE HERALD.

Our Grand Army Edition.

We have issued a special edition of the ILLUSTRATED HERALD in honor of the visit of the Grand Army of the Republic delegations. It is a very handsome work of art, and will do great good to this section. This journal has been very liberal in its donation to the landable enterprise which seeks to make the presence of the veterans pleasant, and it has put its contribution in a shape which will have lasting results for good both for our visitors and for Southern California.

Only Pleasant Memories.

Angeles have hung out their battle-flags to the veterans of the Union army who have tarried here for a moment on their route to the Grand Army Encampment at San Francisco. The war is now happily remote, and the bitterness natural to the first years which succeeded it has altogether disappeared. It is as useless to seek to inflame the passions of the American people on the struggle which resulted in an indissoluble union of States as it would be to excite the people of England on the old struggles between the Guelph and Stuarts.

The battle of Appomattox Court House is practically as far removed, for all purposes, as that of Culloden. We are glad to know that Angelians have been cordial and generous in their hospitable attentions to the men who represent the cause of a united nation and the prestige of the American name. One of the most pleasing features of the canvas for subscriptions to the fund for the entertainment of the members of the Grand Army who are now visiting, and who will visit Los Angeles, is that some of the most liberal contributions were received from men who wore the gray in the late "unpleasantness." One of those gentlemen, a well-known lawyer who had fought on the Confederate side, on being applied to for his dole, said: "Subscribe to entertain the veterans of the Grand Army. By all means. Put me down for $25. They entertained me pretty well during the war, and I feel like reciprocating."

It is not necessary to bespeak for our visitors all possible hospitalities. They represent the victorious' greatest strength of times. They stand for 'Victory and Honor,' which have...

to America, where we encourage Americans in all sections of the country in unshaken devotion to the American and republican democratic idea of government. It is claimed, by those who ought to know its motives best, that the Grand Army of the Republic is an absolutely non-partisan organization. As such its representatives will be welcomed in Los Angeles and all over California. Everywhere the inspiration will be, "Welcome to the guest, speed to the departing guest."

Let There Be Light.

The prospects of a prolonged session of the legislature are unfortunately good. The sanguine expectation that that body would get through its work and adjourn within a week reminds one that nothing with Mr. Seward's prediction that the war would not last sixty days. All the indications point to the exhaustion of the greater part of the month of August in the interminable controversies and great diversities of plans which are being sprung upon the law-makers in relation to irrigation. There has evidently been a great deal of sharp practice in this matter. It seems to be settled that fully ninety members—more than three-fourths of the actual membership of the present Legislature—signed a memorial to the Governor agreeing upon a programme of legislation for the special session. If they were honest in this agreement a week would have been ample time for the dispatch of all the necessary legislation. The memorial, with the names attached to it, ought to be published by the Governor. He owes this to himself and to the people. A question of veracity has been raised between the Governor and the signers, and the document itself will be the best evidence. If the Executive can substantiate the charge of bad faith upon the part of members of the Legislature, those justly impeached will be retired to private life, and probably for all time.

Chief Justice Morrison will undoubtedly receive a great deal of sympathy as a result of the very brutal assault made upon him by Judge Terry. His ailment resulted from no irregular habits of life or vicious indulgences, and merits the forbearance of all fair minded people. He may very well have hoped for a recovery from his partial physical disability. Doubtless if the State had provided, as it should have done, a pension for judges who might be overtaken in the discharge of their duties, as Judge Morrison was, that gentleman would have resigned long ago. The HERALD has been in favor of remodeling the Supreme Court, but it does not countenance personal persecution. What the people need is a Court composed of five able lawyers, sitting in banc, and delivering decisions which will hold for a few years at least. The estimable persons, equal qualities and great moral worth $100,000.00 to the present.

The Electric Ry. Homestead Assn. build one house for every citizen living in their tract. These go with the lots.

FLOURY NEWS.
A New York "Staff" Manufacturer.

Mr. Louis Ebinger, a gentleman, now proprietor of the New York bakery, who, after twenty-four years experience, has attained the success he so richly deserves in the making of bread, has recently obtained a large and elegant delivery wagon, and a number now and then, and a few charges of bakery, highway robbery and arson or other trifling variations from peripety. It is to be noted that with all his skill he is destined to be a thorough "bread" man.

A Base Ball.
The Only One.

None but Electric Bakers need Association sell you $2.00 each, and throw in a dozen lots.

For Those at Last.
SAN FRANCISCO, July 30.—Richard Schneider was found dead, hanging to a ham in his barn at Oakdale, to-day. A short time ago, he failed in the grocery business, which caused him to shoot himself with a revolver and then, and a few charges of bakery, highway robbery and arson or other trifling variations from peripety. It is to be noted that with all his skill he is destined to be a thorough "bread" man.

Electric Ry. Homestead Assn.
A New York "Staff" Manufacturer.

Mr. Louis Ebinger, a gentleman, now proprietor of the New York bakery, who, after twenty-four years experience, has attained the success he so richly deserves in the making of bread, has recently obtained a large and elegant delivery wagon, and a number now and then, and a few charges of bakery, highway robbery and arson or other trifling variations from peripety. It is to be noted that with all his skill he is destined to be a thorough "bread" man.

Freight Rates.
SAN FRANCISCO, July 30.—The Board of Supervision and Control appointed by the Democratic Central Committee to carry out the provisions of the new plan of organization have agreed that the election of delegates to the State Convention be held on Monday, August 23.

FLOURY NEWS.
A New York "Staff" Manufacturer.

Mr. Louis Ebinger, a gentleman, now proprietor of the New York bakery, who, after twenty-four years experience, has attained the success he so richly deserves in the making of bread, has recently obtained a large and elegant delivery wagon, and a number now and then, and a few charges of bakery, highway robbery and arson or other trifling variations from peripety. It is to be noted that with all his skill he is destined to be a thorough "bread" man.

STURGEON.
The Famous Longstreet Place.

Villa lots in this celebrated street were sold at a price of $1,000.00 each, and McCrory & Cushman, the sole selling agents. One-half the lots are sold, and choice lots will soon be past. The good lots are not all sold, and now is the time to choose.

ATTENTION.
Men of the Grand Army!

GOVERNMENT Bonds and RAILWAY SHARES.

NEW YORK, July 30.—Government bonds were dull and steady to-day. State bonds were dull and firm. The stock market was flat almost the entire day. New York Central and Texas Pease were features of early trading, the former on buying for long on account and the latter by a growing feeling of confidence in the new committee and reports of large crops along the line of road. In the afternoon other southwestern stocks became features, particularly upon crop reports. Business was quiet, but prices continued to advance slowly during most of the forenoon.

Those visiting New Orleans should bear in mind that while the Palace Hotel is the finest and largest in the world, its rates are only the same as other first-class hotels. Its table is especially looked after by Mr. Schonewald (late of Du Monte).

ONE IN ELEVEN.
The Electric Ry. Homestead Assn. build one house for every citizen living in their tract. These go with the lots.

THE FAMOUS LONGSTREET PLACE.
Villa lots in this celebrated street were sold at a price of $1,000.00 each, and McCrory & Cushman, the sole selling agents. One-half the lots are sold, and choice lots will soon be past. The good lots are not all sold, and now is the time to choose.

SPECIAL NOTICES.
TEN ACRES OF LAND.

At a great bargain offered only for a few days. STRONG & BLENCHARD, sole agents, 39 N. Spring street.

TELEGRAPHIC.

Connell's Statements Discredited by Hazen.

CALIFORNIA HORSES ON TOP.

When the Delegates to the Democratic State Convention Are to Be Elected.

[Special to the Herald by the Associated Press.]

New York, July 30.—The World's Washington special says: speaking of Connell last night, General Hazen said: "I shall pay no attention to his statements. They are true in part, but the truth in them is so distorted as to be misleading. Connell has no right to attack Greely. Greely always befriended him. It was on the advice of Greely, who thought the climate would suit him, that Connell was sent to San Francisco. Then I sent him to Los Angeles, thinking that would be better for him. But it seems he did not think so. Greely will not take any notice of Connell's statements, because he is in the hands of the Secretary of War, and I have no idea that it will be done."

STANFORD FOR PRESIDENT.

An Item Sent by a Reporter Short of News.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 30.—A work has just been issued from Oakland entitled "The New Empire." It contains an extended reference to Senator Stanford in connection with the Presidency of the United States. The writer says: "In 1884 Senator Stanford made up his mind to run for President, and since his Senatorial service has shown the profundity of his experience, his ripe learning, his judicial temper, and his executive force, the people of the state are unanimous in their opinion that he is the man to give to the country the benefit of his qualities in that higher and greater office than the one he now holds."

Reference is also made to Stanford's great railroad accomplishments and the credit work he did in connection with the building and maintenance of a University in California.

A Blooded Challenge.

NEW YORK, July 30.—The World's Arizona special says: James Murphy, trainer for J. B. Haggis, has offered to match any horse in the stable against any horse in E. J. Baldwin's Santa Anita stable for $2,000 to $10,000 for a mile and a half or upward, weight for age, play or pay, to run over the track.

The proposition was made through Senator Wheately who contacted it to J. W. McClelland, Baldwin's McLelland now in California.

"Hello!" we heard one man say to another.

—WEDNESDAY.

For the week-end all the time and give up expecting to be any better. The doctor said I had consumption. I was terribly weak, had night-sweats, cough, no appetite, lost weight, lost flesh, saw Dr. Hayes' Golden Medicine Discovery verified, and thought it would do no harm if I did no good. It has cured me, if I am a new man because I am a well one.

HOMES FOR THE PEOPLE!

By the picturesqueness of San Gabriel Valley Railroad, Round trip 75 cents. To Pasadena and La Canada Park 65 cents.

AMUSEMENTS.

GRAND OPERA HOUSE.

H. C. WYATT, Manager.

Repertoire Box office open from 10 A. M. to 8 P. M.

MONDAY.

TUESDAY.

WEDNESDAY.

THURSDAY.

FRIDAY.

SATURDAY.

SUNDAY.

MONDAY.

TUESDAY.

WEDNESDAY.

THURSDAY.

FRIDAY.

&lt;p

G. A. R.

Arrival of the Trains, Incidents of the Reception.

THE CITY IN GAY ATTIRE
Delegations from Twenty States
Arrived and Received with Enthusiasm.

As soon as definite information regarding the arrival in Los Angeles of the G. A. R. delegates to the National Encampment at San Francisco reached the Reception Committee in this city, arrangements were put on foot to go out and meet the several trains. By the accommodating kindness of the California Southern railway a train was secured to go to Barstow. This left the depot at 7 o'clock a.m., carrying the following: G. A. R. boys and other citizens; Col. L. E. Dunkelberger and wife, F. W. Tyler and wife, Maj. A. E. Weed, wife and son; Maj. Geo. E. Gard, S. D. Scragg, J. F. Walker, Maj. L. S. Butler, R. W. Hammatt, Col. Melvyn Mudge, E. P. Johnson, Col. H. H. Boyce, Capt. A. M. Thornton, Col. H. G. Ois and wife A. M. Dunker, Dr. L. W. French, C. C. Davis, O. W. Baldwin, Mr. J. T. Smith, L. B. Felt, H. N. East, T. K. Bentley, R. Patterson, W. C. Thornton, H. L. Carter, N. C. Carter, Sutherland Hutton, G. W. Burton, of the Harvard Club, W. V. Williams, who was off the train at Pomona, Mr. Williamson Dunn, of the C. S. Railway, went east as far as Spadra, and got the regular express train, so he reached Los Angeles. This gentleman did everything possible to make things pleasant and comfortable for the party, and, together with all the members of the company, was in spirits in the atmosphere of public spirit and disposition to be kindly considerate, which made the way to a very warm place in the hearts of the old soldiers.

The delegations came one and sped on regardless of stations or schedules, excepting as one or two points where incoming trains had to be passed. The C. S. Railway express train, however, had not passed, and was a little late, and so the special pushed on to Spadra. But little observation of the country could be made as the train fled rapidly into the darkness before the "clock" was struck. The Southern Pacific Co. is doing a great deal of good work in ballasting the roadbed all the way from Los Angeles to Sacramento. At many points the bed of the Tujunga gravel is down alongside the track.

At Colton it was reported that the first section of the G. A. R. trains would leave the West before the "clock" was struck. The Southern Pacific Co. had a long and eventful ride. At San Bernardino they stopped to wait for the delay in their papers. The wires of the C. S. R. were put at their service, and a dispatch forwarded, that circumstances had caused the train to be delayed. Los Angeles might have been the last stop, but the news was obtained that the first section would probably be here at 5 p.m. of the day. Again the news-purveyors made a rush to the telegraph office to effect the first message. This was promptly sent off by the C. S. R. to Sacramento, and in time to catch the last "form" of the Los Angeles paper they were going to press.

Then the party began to look up a "good place" to seek an interview in the living arms of Morphus. During the whole trip out a more joyous party could hardly be found. Carved had his date along, and nearly all the boys were in high glee over the song that might be started. The ladies on board added to the pleasure and interest of the occasion by their gracefulness and frankness. The first night, the music, a solo composed in the early sixties and following years to cheer the boys on long and tedious marches down the valleys and past the tall mountains, was heard again, and just as of war times, the tones of hearty laughter, and now and then a little creature comfort to stay the spirits that had not yet begun to stir the tides of manhood. But when the rumba and roll of the car ceased, and the whistling hour was already long since past, the excitement of one's comrade's singing died away, and the change from even such good company.

The capacity of the hotel was tested beyond endurance by the unwonted crowd. The employes were raised to their feet to seek an interview in the living arms of Morphus. During the whole trip out a more joyous party could hardly be found. Carved had his date along, and nearly all the boys were in high glee over the song that might be started. The ladies on board added to the pleasure and interest of the occasion by their gracefulness and frankness. The first night, the music, a solo composed in the early sixties and following years to cheer the boys on long and tedious marches down the valleys and past the tall mountains, was heard again, and just as of war times, the tones of hearty laughter, and now and then a little creature comfort to stay the spirits that had not yet begun to stir the tides of manhood. But when the rumba and roll of the car ceased, and the whistling hour was already long since past, the excitement of one's comrade's singing died away, and the change from even such good company.

"Would not that leave the canal company at the mercy of the farmer?" "Yes; unless the farmer and the canal company agreed on a price for water before the water was taken from the river, there would be no water for the farmer." "But what would be done in such instances? In fact, it would result in most canal companies being co-operative."

"To possess the same company owned and controlled the water, would then not be a monopoly?"

"But how could monopoly or excessive charges for water be prevented?"

"In several ways. When there is really no water, no price can be fixed, and the public interest will not be well served.

"The east-bound express was hurried after, and an effort was made through Mr. Mix, agent of the A. & P. Ry. & The Needles, to have it go to San Joaquin, to allow the express to get to San Bernardino to allow them to wire to Los Angeles on Saturday morning.

After they were gone, the express was not wired, and some delay had been made which would keep the next section from arriving until 12, midnight. The crowd was in it to the full extent of a malignant effort, but all were in the interest of the best service.

"The east-bound express was hurried after, and an effort was made through Mr. Mix, agent of the A. & P. Ry. & The Needles, to have it go to San Joaquin, to allow the express to get to San Bernardino to allow them to wire to Los Angeles on Saturday morning.

At 12, the express arrived at Barstow, and the news was obtained that the first section would probably be here at 5 p.m. of the day. Again the news-purveyors made a rush to the telegraph office to effect the first message. This was promptly sent off by the C. S. R. to Sacramento, and in time to catch the last "form" of the Los Angeles paper they were going to press.

"Would not that leave the canal company at the mercy of the farmer?" "Yes; unless the farmer and the canal company agreed on a price for water before the water was taken from the river, there would be no water for the farmer." "But what would be done in such instances? In fact, it would result in most canal companies being co-operative."

"To possess the same company owned and controlled the water, would then not be a monopoly?"

"But how could monopoly or excessive charges for water be prevented?"

"In several ways. When there is really no water, no price can be fixed, and the public interest will not be well served.

"The east-bound express was hurried after, and an effort was made through Mr. Mix, agent of the A. & P. Ry. & The Needles, to have it go to San Joaquin, to allow the express to get to San Bernardino to allow them to wire to Los Angeles on Saturday morning.

After they were gone, the express was not wired, and some delay had been made which would keep the next section from arriving until 12, midnight. The crowd was in it to the full extent of a malignant effort, but all were in the interest of the best service.

"The east-bound express was hurried after, and an effort was made through Mr. Mix, agent of the A. & P. Ry. & The Needles, to have it go to San Joaquin, to allow the express to get to San Bernardino to allow them to wire to Los Angeles on Saturday morning.

At 12, the express arrived at Barstow, and the news was obtained that the first section would probably be here at 5 p.m. of the day. Again the news-purveyors made a rush to the telegraph office to effect the first message. This was promptly sent off by the C. S. R. to Sacramento, and in time to catch the last "form" of the Los Angeles paper they were going to press.

"Would not that leave the canal company at the mercy of the farmer?" "Yes; unless the farmer and the canal company agreed on a price for water before the water was taken from the river, there would be no water for the farmer." "But what would be done in such instances? In fact, it would result in most canal companies being co-operative."

"To possess the same company owned and controlled the water, would then not be a monopoly?"

"But how could monopoly or excessive charges for water be prevented?"

"In several ways. When there is really no water, no price can be fixed, and the public interest will not be well served.

"The east-bound express was hurried after, and an effort was made through Mr. Mix, agent of the A. & P. Ry. & The Needles, to have it go to San Joaquin, to allow the express to get to San Bernardino to allow them to wire to Los Angeles on Saturday morning.

After they were gone, the express was not wired, and some delay had been made which would keep the next section from arriving until 12, midnight. The crowd was in it to the full extent of a malignant effort, but all were in the interest of the best service.

"The east-bound express was hurried after, and an effort was made through Mr. Mix, agent of the A. & P. Ry. & The Needles, to have it go to San Joaquin, to allow the express to get to San Bernardino to allow them to wire to Los Angeles on Saturday morning.

At 12, the express arrived at Barstow, and the news was obtained that the first section would probably be here at 5 p.m. of the day. Again the news-purveyors made a rush to the telegraph office to effect the first message. This was promptly sent off by the C. S. R. to Sacramento, and in time to catch the last "form" of the Los Angeles paper they were going to press.

"Would not that leave the canal company at the mercy of the farmer?" "Yes; unless the farmer and the canal company agreed on a price for water before the water was taken from the river, there would be no water for the farmer." "But what would be done in such instances? In fact, it would result in most canal companies being co-operative."

"To possess the same company owned and controlled the water, would then not be a monopoly?"

"But how could monopoly or excessive charges for water be prevented?"

"In several ways. When there is really no water, no price can be fixed, and the public interest will not be well served.

"The east-bound express was hurried after, and an effort was made through Mr. Mix, agent of the A. & P. Ry. & The Needles, to have it go to San Joaquin, to allow the express to get to San Bernardino to allow them to wire to Los Angeles on Saturday morning.

After they were gone, the express was not wired, and some delay had been made which would keep the next section from arriving until 12, midnight. The crowd was in it to the full extent of a malignant effort, but all were in the interest of the best service.

"The east-bound express was hurried after, and an effort was made through Mr. Mix, agent of the A. & P. Ry. & The Needles, to have it go to San Joaquin, to allow the express to get to San Bernardino to allow them to wire to Los Angeles on Saturday morning.

At 12, the express arrived at Barstow, and the news was obtained that the first section would probably be here at 5 p.m. of the day. Again the news-purveyors made a rush to the telegraph office to effect the first message. This was promptly sent off by the C. S. R. to Sacramento, and in time to catch the last "form" of the Los Angeles paper they were going to press.

"Would not that leave the canal company at the mercy of the farmer?" "Yes; unless the farmer and the canal company agreed on a price for water before the water was taken from the river, there would be no water for the farmer." "But what would be done in such instances? In fact, it would result in most canal companies being co-operative."

"To possess the same company owned and controlled the water, would then not be a monopoly?"

"But how could monopoly or excessive charges for water be prevented?"

"In several ways. When there is really no water, no price can be fixed, and the public interest will not be well served.

"The east-bound express was hurried after, and an effort was made through Mr. Mix, agent of the A. & P. Ry. & The Needles, to have it go to San Joaquin, to allow the express to get to San Bernardino to allow them to wire to Los Angeles on Saturday morning.

After they were gone, the express was not wired, and some delay had been made which would keep the next section from arriving until 12, midnight. The crowd was in it to the full extent of a malignant effort, but all were in the interest of the best service.

"The east-bound express was hurried after, and an effort was made through Mr. Mix, agent of the A. & P. Ry. & The Needles, to have it go to San Joaquin, to allow the express to get to San Bernardino to allow them to wire to Los Angeles on Saturday morning.

At 12, the express arrived at Barstow, and the news was obtained that the first section would probably be here at 5 p.m. of the day. Again the news-purveyors made a rush to the telegraph office to effect the first message. This was promptly sent off by the C. S. R. to Sacramento, and in time to catch the last "form" of the Los Angeles paper they were going to press.

"Would not that leave the canal company at the mercy of the farmer?" "Yes; unless the farmer and the canal company agreed on a price for water before the water was taken from the river, there would be no water for the farmer." "But what would be done in such instances? In fact, it would result in most canal companies being co-operative."

"To possess the same company owned and controlled the water, would then not be a monopoly?"

"But how could monopoly or excessive charges for water be prevented?"

"In several ways. When there is really no water, no price can be fixed, and the public interest will not be well served.

"The east-bound express was hurried after, and an effort was made through Mr. Mix, agent of the A. & P. Ry. & The Needles, to have it go to San Joaquin, to allow the express to get to San Bernardino to allow them to wire to Los Angeles on Saturday morning.

After they were gone, the express was not wired, and some delay had been made which would keep the next section from arriving until 12, midnight. The crowd was in it to the full extent of a malignant effort, but all were in the interest of the best service.

"The east-bound express was hurried after, and an effort was made through Mr. Mix, agent of the A. & P. Ry. & The Needles, to have it go to San Joaquin, to allow the express to get to San Bernardino to allow them to wire to Los Angeles on Saturday morning.

At 12, the express arrived at Barstow, and the news was obtained that the first section would probably be here at 5 p.m. of the day. Again the news-purveyors made a rush to the telegraph office to effect the first message. This was promptly sent off by the C. S. R. to Sacramento, and in time to catch the last "form" of the Los Angeles paper they were going to press.

"Would not that leave the canal company at the mercy of the farmer?" "Yes; unless the farmer and the canal company agreed on a price for water before the water was taken from the river, there would be no water for the farmer." "But what would be done in such instances? In fact, it would result in most canal companies being co-operative."

"To possess the same company owned and controlled the water, would then not be a monopoly?"

"But how could monopoly or excessive charges for water be prevented?"

"In several ways. When there is really no water, no price can be fixed, and the public interest will not be well served.

"The east-bound express was hurried after, and an effort was made through Mr. Mix, agent of the A. & P. Ry. & The Needles, to have it go to San Joaquin, to allow the express to get to San Bernardino to allow them to wire to Los Angeles on Saturday morning.

After they were gone, the express was not wired, and some delay had been made which would keep the next section from arriving until 12, midnight. The crowd was in it to the full extent of a malignant effort, but all were in the interest of the best service.

"The east-bound express was hurried after, and an effort was made through Mr. Mix, agent of the A. & P. Ry. & The Needles, to have it go to San Joaquin, to allow the express to get to San Bernardino to allow them to wire to Los Angeles on Saturday morning.

At 12, the express arrived at Barstow, and the news was obtained that the first section would probably be here at 5 p.m. of the day. Again the news-purveyors made a rush to the telegraph office to effect the first message. This was promptly sent off by the C. S. R. to Sacramento, and in time to catch the last "form" of the Los Angeles paper they were going to press.

"Would not that leave the canal company at the mercy of the farmer?" "Yes; unless the farmer and the canal company agreed on a price for water before the water was taken from the river, there would be no water for the farmer." "But what would be done in such instances? In fact, it would result in most canal companies being co-operative."

"To possess the same company owned and controlled the water, would then not be a monopoly?"

"But how could monopoly or excessive charges for water be prevented?"

"In several ways. When there is really no water, no price can be fixed, and the public interest will not be well served.

"The east-bound express was hurried after, and an effort was made through Mr. Mix, agent of the A. & P. Ry. & The Needles, to have it go to San Joaquin, to allow the express to get to San Bernardino to allow them to wire to Los Angeles on Saturday morning.

After they were gone, the express was not wired, and some delay had been made which would keep the next section from arriving until 12, midnight. The crowd was in it to the full extent of a malignant effort, but all were in the interest of the best service.

"The east-bound express was hurried after, and an effort was made through Mr. Mix, agent of the A. & P. Ry. & The Needles, to have it go to San Joaquin, to allow the express to get to San Bernardino to allow them to wire to Los Angeles on Saturday morning.

At 12, the express arrived at Barstow, and the news was obtained that the first section would probably be here at 5 p.m. of the day. Again the news-purveyors made a rush to the telegraph office to effect the first message. This was promptly sent off by the C. S. R. to Sacramento, and in time to catch the last "form" of the Los Angeles paper they were going to press.

"Would not that leave the canal company at the mercy of the farmer?" "Yes; unless the farmer and the canal company agreed on a price for water before the water was taken from the river, there would be no water for the farmer." "But what would be done in such instances? In fact, it would result in most canal companies being co-operative."

"To possess the same company owned and controlled the water, would then not be a monopoly?"

"But how could monopoly or excessive charges for water be prevented?"

"In several ways. When there is really no water, no price can be fixed, and the public interest will not be well served.

"The east-bound express was hurried after, and an effort was made through Mr. Mix, agent of the A. & P. Ry. & The Needles, to have it go to San Joaquin, to allow the express to get to San Bernardino to allow them to wire to Los Angeles on Saturday morning.

After they were gone, the express was not wired, and some delay had been made which would keep the next section from arriving until 12, midnight. The crowd was in it to the full extent of a malignant effort, but all were in the interest of the best service.

"The east-bound express was hurried after, and an effort was made through Mr. Mix, agent of the A. & P. Ry. & The Needles, to have it go to San Joaquin, to allow the express to get to San Bernardino to allow them to wire to Los Angeles on Saturday morning.

At 12, the express arrived at Barstow, and the news was obtained that the first section would probably be here at 5 p.m. of the day. Again the news-purveyors made a rush to the telegraph office to effect the first message. This was promptly sent off by the C. S. R. to Sacramento, and in time to catch the last "form" of the Los Angeles paper they were going to press.

"Would not that leave the canal company at the mercy of the farmer?" "Yes; unless the farmer and the canal company agreed on a price for water before the water was taken from the river, there would be no water for the farmer." "But what would be done in such instances? In fact, it would result

